About the Index

The FTSE KLD Europe Asia Pacific Sustainability Index (EAPSI) is a diversified regional benchmark constructed using environmental, social and governance (ESG) factors as selection criteria. The Index is a subset of the KLD Global Sustainability Index (GSIN) and holds the top ESG-ranked companies by sector in the Europe and Asia Pacific regions.

The EAPSI is a float-adjusted market capitalization weighted index. To limit the systemic risk introduced by the ESG selection process, the EAPSI achieves sector neutrality through the application of targeted sector weights that reflect the relative sector weights of the underlying market.

The EAPSI eligible universe includes companies from 23 developed market countries in the Europe and Asia Pacific regions but does not control for country representation and is not constrained to match country representation in the underlying universe or in the FTSE All World Developed Europe Asia Pacific Index.

KLD uses a common global rating and analysis system to evaluate the ESG performance of each company in the eligible universe. KLD then ranks companies by sector peer group according to ESG performance. To generate comparative sector rankings, KLD identifies key ESG performance indicators for each sector and weights them accordingly.

KLD rates a company's sustainability performance analyzing:

Environment: management systems, climate change impact, emissions, and pollution prevention

Social: community & society, employees & supply chain, and customers

Governance: board structure, executive compensation, political accountability, and disclosure
